Mr. P. Govinda Menon.—Whether the quotations from these presses are the cheapest?

Mr. T. S. Narayana Ayyar.—They are.

Mr. K. M. Ibrahim.—Are there not many speeches published without correction by the Members?

Mr. T. S. Narayana Ayyar.—Yes. There is great delay in returning the speeches by the Members. A time limit has to be fixed.

Mr. President.—I think some instructions were issued in the last session, that they should send the speeches corrected within so many days of their receipt.

Mr. K. M. Ibrahim.—There was such a rule even before. Even without this special stipulation was it not the duty of the Government to publish this report earlier? My question is, was it not incumbent on the part of the Government to publish them earlier?

Mr. President.—They were waiting for days and sometimes months simply on this ground. That rule will be strictly enforced.

Gants-in-aid—Co-operative Societies of ex-students of Industrial Schools.

19. Mr. A. Narayana Menon.—Will the Government be pleased to state.—

(a) whether Co-operative Societies of ex-students of Industrial schools have been formed; if so, when and where;

(b) do the Government grant aid to such societies; if so, in what form?

Mr. K. Narayana Menon.—(a) A Co-operative Society of ex-students has been formed on 22nd Dhanu 1111 under the name "Rama Varma Industrial Society, Ltd., Ernakulam".

(b) The society does not receive any aid from the Government, but the departmental heads place orders for furniture with the society when the terms are found to be favourable.

(N. B.—The society is registered under the Co-operative Societies Regulation, No. IV of 1088, as No. 327 on the basis of limited liability).
